

Are we nearly there yet?

The big sing-along

A great game for every budding performer – and it keeps the brain cells sharp too. Nothing could be easier?

Simply pick a song that everyone knows. Perhaps a chart topper. Perhaps a golden oldie. Or if you've got young kiddies in the car, even a nursery rhyme will do.

The aim of the game is simple – each person must sing one word from the song before the next singer takes over. So, just pick a song, pick an order and get your tonsils warbling.
